Lofty Songshan Mountain, Reaching the Heavens in Its Grandeur

Songshan Global Geopark, China

Songshan Mountain features towering peaks that rise like colossal walls, steep and majestic, amidst the serene beauty of its valleys.

The mountain range exposes a continuous sequence of rock layers spanning five geological eras—the Archean, Proterozoic, Paleozoic, Mesozoic, and Cenozoic—dating back an astonishing 3.5 billion years.

These layers, clearly defined and rich in tectonic features, provide a vivid record of the planet's evolution in a single location. Songshan Mountain is, in essence, a natural archive of Earth's story, written in stone.

Zhengzhou, nestled in the heart of China along the southern bank of the Yellow River, is one of the birthplaces of Chinese civilization.
Here in Zhengzhou, you can immerse yourself in the richness of history and embrace the energy of modern life.

"Convenience bags" are provided at rapid bus stations and in some bus compartments. These bags typically contain emergency items such as tissues, iodine, band-aids, cotton swabs, reading glasses, disposable raincoats, face masks, gloves, and hand sanitizing gel. During hot weather, the bags are also equipped with cooling products like Huoxiang Zhengqi liquid, essential oils, and cooling balm. Wheelchairs are available at BRT platforms with higher passenger traffic, such as the Huayuan Road - Nongye Road station and the Gongren Road - Longhai Road station.

2. Priority seats and accessibility facilities

There are usually priority seats in the compartments of Zhengzhou buses. These seats are typically located in the middle or at the rear of the compartment, making it convenient for passengers in need of special care, such as the elderly, pregnant women, and people with disabilities, to use.
