The Longyou Caves, known as the “Ninth Wonder of the World,” attract global tourists with a set of mysterious 36 ancient underground chambers carved from solid siltstone.

Jiangxin Isle is known as the “Ancient Lighthouse of the World” and its western twin towers were inscribed in 1997 in the list of “Top 100 Historic and Cultural Lighthouses of the World by the International Organisation for Marine Aids to Navigation”. It is a living witness to China’s millennia-old Silk Road culture.
